

December 2018

Dear Friends:

We are about to close our activities this year. This association has worked intensely to launch the reaffirmation program of EURHODIP, proposed at the International Congress of Seville, October 2017. I want to thank everyone for their commitment and perseverance in revitalizing our programs and innovating to get up to speed on the objectives set by our statutes established in Brussels in 1988. You have shown that we are still a great family!

It is important to confirm that we represent the presence of European culture in the tourism and gastronomy industry in the world. The interest of permanence is ratified by the applications of more than 20 institutions that have requested their registration during the course of this year, 14 of which have been accepted in the Congress of Pula and Poreč in Croatia, November 2018.

For us, EUROPE is more than just a farmhouse, an amusement park, or a potato bank that distributes money to their children. EUROPE is awareness, not interests. We are aware of our history that cannot be abandoned overnight.

As we bid farewell to the year in which we have worked with enthusiasm for all of you, we realize that non-profit associations, such as EURHODIP, have much to do in uniting people in improving our labor and social living conditions. It is precisely cross-cutting associations such as ours that, in the face of global problems, move global solutions. We do not have responsibilities of political parties and our goal is the understanding of people beyond their borders who want the progress and the common good of their country.

The reviled selfishness in which some countries move when it comes to confining themselves have no place in EURHODIP. As we have observed this year in the various international meetings, the progress of our associate members is our progress. The uniqueness of our European culture has been and must remain nothing exclusive. Less colonizing if not welcoming that integrates making the most diverse in the world.

New borders are born, a new digital age, but in free associations like EURHODIP we value all this positively and we innovate the strict regulations so to be current. That is why we are working on committees whose effectiveness we will see soon.

In a new year, we want to be emerging as the new generations who need our experience without asking for anything in return. In our students lies the future.

Welcome new members to EURHODIP 2019!

Happy Holidays and New Year!

Cordially greetings
